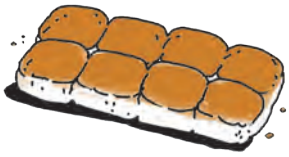
4. A String Song

Form groups of 8 to 10 children each to play this game.

- The first child says,

I went to the market.
Do you know what I bought ?
Some red shiny apples !
That's what I got.

- The second child adds something :



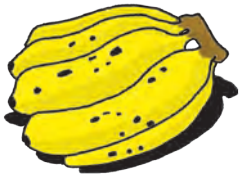
I went to the market.
Do you know what I bought ?
Some red shiny apples !
A big loaf of bread !
That's what I got.

- The third child adds one more thing.

I went to the market.
Do you know what I bought ?
Some red shiny apples !
A big loaf of bread !
A pack of colour pencils !
That's what I got.

A string of white flowers

A bunch of big bananas



A big jar of honey

A sack of gram flour

A pack of liquid soap

Some juicy ripe mangoes

A pair of blue bangles

In this way, every child repeats in the correct order, what others have said and adds something new on his/her own. The game continues up to the last child.

You may use the examples given here, or use your own ideas.